1. Army War Show at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, June 1942, to support Army Emergency Relief [flyer]. Philadelphia: Army Emergency Relief, 1942. 1 sheet: 23 x 15 cm. Printed on both sides in red, blue, and black. Flyer for the advance sale of souvenir tickets to the Army War Show held at Franklin Field, in Philadelphia, June 20, 22-27, 1942. The show benefited Army Emergency Relief, which had been established earlier that year. The Army War Show had started in Baltimore before making its second stop, in Philadelphia. One side is illustrated with a tank, the other with several military images as well as a small poster-style illustration of a soldier in the background and a woman with a child in the foreground captioned "Take the load off his heart!" Extremely scarce World War Two piece of ephemera. In Good+ Condition: 2 closed tears of 1 cm. each from one edge; light creasing, particularly one upper corner; light soiling. (#002304) $28.00

2. Centennial Program: Military Day Wednesday, June 20th, 1900. Beaver, Pa.: Beaver College, 1900. 1 sheet 24 x 16 cm. Illustration of a log cabin, signed E. Bott. Although the centennial referred to in the title is that of the founding of Beaver County in 1800, the emphasis on Military Day was on Beaver County's role in the American Civil War. The reception was headed by Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles (1839-1925); from 1895 to 1903 he was the last Commanding General of the United States Army, prior to the office being abolished. The 140th Pennsylvania, 17th Cavalry and Washington Infantry hosted visiting regiments. A monument was presented and music was provided by Duss' Band, the Chorus Club, the Grand Orchestra, and the Misses Morgan, Wilcox, and Potter. In the evening one could enjoy alumnae tableaux at Beaver College for 35 cents. In Good Condition: lightly soiled and creased; chipping along edges; minor separations along old folds; otherwise intact. (#005897) $35.00

3. Farrar, Samuel Clarke. The Twenty-Second Pennsylvania Cavalry and the Ringgold Battalion 1861-1865. Pittsburgh, Pa.: Twenty-Second Pennsylvania Ringgold Cavalry Association, 1911. xi, 4-538 p.: frontispiece portrait of Col. Andrew J. Greenfield, leaves of plates containing illustrations, portraits, and maps (1 folded); 24 cm. Dark green publisher's cloth with gilt-stamped spine and cover titles; gilt-stamped cover illustration. Green moire-patterned endpapers. Bookplates on front fixed endpaper for Earle R. Forrest of Washington, Pa., and the Library of the Museum of Northern Arizona, which received the book from Forrest. Verso of title page contains a stamp for the Washington County Historical Society, Washington, Pa. Earle R. Forrest (1883-1969) was an author, newspaper reporter, cowboy, and photographer from Washington County, Pa. Although he spent most of his working life there, he made a number of trips to the West, specifically to Arizona and Montana, which he documented in photographs and books. This work presents the complete history of the companies of cavalry recruited from Washington County, Pa., during the Civil War. Includes regimental rosters. In Very Good+ Condition: ends of spine and corners lightly rubbed; pages are clean and tight. (#001613) $265.00

4. Flanders, Henry. Address of Mr. Henry Flanders Before the Graduating Cadets at the Military Academy West Point July 11, 1888. West Point, N.Y.: West Point Military Academy, 1888. 8 p.; 17 cm. White wrappers. Wrapper title. "July" crossed out and "June" written next to it. Henry Flanders (1826-1911) was a member of the Board of Visitors for the United States Military Academy at West Point. According to the New York Times: "Mr. Flanders spoke in a clear, strong voice, and was easily heard throughout the assembly." Flanders was born in New Hampshire and practiced law in Kentucky and South Carolina before settling in Philadelphia. He also wrote Treatise on Maritime Law (1852), Treatise on the Law of Shipping (1853), Lives of the United States Chief Justices (1855), Memoirs of the Cumberland (1856), An Exposition of the Constitution of the United States (1860), Treatise on the Principles of Insurance (1871), Adventures of a Virginian (1881), and The Life of John Marshall (1904). Oval stamp on front fixed endpapers: Historical Society of Montgomery County, Historical Hall, Norristown, Pa. Additional stamp on front fixed endpapers indicates that these volumes were given to the Society in 1932 by Mrs. A. Conrad Jones, from the library of Major William H. Bean. Call number written in white at tail of each spine. Major William Heebner Bean (1861-1904) graduated from West Point in 1886 and joined the Second Cavalry; during the Spanish American War he served in Cuba. In 1900 he was appointed Captain in the Subsistence Department and promoted to Major in 1902. He and his father, Col. Theodore W. Bean (d. 1891), were instrumental in the establishment of the Historical Society of Montgomery County. At the time of his death, he was preparing a work on the movements of General Washington in Montgomery County during the American Revolution, particularly focusing on the time at Valley Forge. The donor of the volumes was Major Bean's sister, Mary Louise Bean Jones (1863-1957). A heavy set; for international shipping, they will have to be sent by priority international. In Very Good- Condition: ex-library, as described above; spines are faded; ends of spines are starting to fray; corners are rubbed; clean and tight. (#006032) $265.00

12. Lumsden, Peter Stark, and Elsmie, G.R. Lumsden of the Guides: A Sketch of the Life of Lieut.-Gen. Sir Harry Burnett Lumsden, K.C.S.I., C.B., with Selections from his Correspondence and Occasional Papers by General Sir Peter S. Lumsden and George R. Elsmie. London: John Murray, 1900. Second edition. xv, [1], 336 p.:

engraved frontispiece and 13 additional leaves of plates (including 2 battle plans and 1 folded facsimile); 23 cm. Publisher's buff cloth with red spine and cover titles. No dust jacket. Lacking the map of the Afghan frontier, listed as "At the end" in the list of illustrations; on back free endpaper is written: "For map see Neville Chamberlin's life PDH 22 July 1913." Armorial bookplate on front fixed endpaper of Carlos B.

Lumsden with motto "Dei Dono Sum Quod Sum." Written next to the bookplate: "Stolen from P.D. Hughes." On the back endpapers are written the titles of several biographies and histories with the page number on which they are mentioned in the text. Major Carlos Barron Lumsden (1878-1916), 18th Battalion Highland Light Infantry, was the son of Hugh Gordon Lumsden of Auchindoir and Clova, Aberdeenshire, and Maria Magdalena, daughter of Carlos Pedro Gordon of Wardhouse and Kildrummy. He served as a trooper in Roberts' Horse in the South African War; he also was a barrister-at-law and the author of The Dawn of Modern England (published 1910). He married Geraldine Fitzgerald, with whom he had two children. He enlisted in Aug. 1914 and died at the front in France on March 8, 1916, of "syncope," presumably exhaustion or a heart attack. The subject, Sir Harry Burnett Lumsden (1821-1896), was a British military officer in India who was appointed to establish and lead the Corps of Guides, a regiment of the British Indian Army. He and one of the authors, his brother Peter Stark Lumsden, were probably distant relations of the former owner, Carlos Barron Lumsden. Lacking the map of the Afghan frontier; otherwise in Very Good Condition: corners rubbed; cover lightly soiled; head of spine starting to fray; light damp stain along upper edge of plates, not impacting illustrations; plates are otherwise clean and tight; text is clean and tight. A British military biography with an interesting provenance. (#003681) $75.00
