THE AMERICAN PRESIDENCY

6. Buchanan, James. Mr. Buchanan's Administration on the Eve of the Rebellion. New York: D. Appleton and Co., 1866. x, [1], 10-296, 3-8 p.; 24 cm. Publisher's dark green pebble-grain cloth with gilt-stamped spine title "Buchanan's Administration." Blind-ruled border on each board. Pale yellow endpapers. Publisher's advertisements on 6 pages following text. In pencil on front free endpaper: Patterson. Bookplate on back fixed endpaper indicates that the book was given to the Washington County Historical Society in 1911 by D.F. Patterson. Although this book was published without the author's name on the title page, the Preface is dated Wheatland, Buchanan's home in Pennsylvania. James Buchanan (1791-1868), the 15th President of the United States, was considered a "doughface" during his presidency, meaning that he was a Northerner with Southern sympathies. Today he is considered to be one of the worst presidents because of his failure to address the secession of seven Southern states. This failure led to the beginning of the Civil War shortly after the end of his term in office. At the time he was widely blamed for the war, which was sometimes called "Buchanan's War." In this work, he sought to defend his actions (and inactions). In Good Condition: ends of spine and corners fraying; cloth separating from from head along back joint; discoloration on lower spine; cloth slightly soiled; back hinge split; occasional soiling and pencil notations on pages. (#006090) $125.00

7. Halstead, Murat, and Melville Phillips. The Great Battle for Protection and Sound Money Led by Hon. Wm. McKinley; Including His life; his work in the Halls of Congress; his masterly arguments for sound statesmanship and sound money; his letter of acceptance and inaugural address; also biographical sketches of the members of his cabinet and plans of the administration. . . . It contains a Chapter by Hon. John Sherman, and an Introduction by Hon. Chauncey M. Depew. Philadelphia: Edgewood Publishing Company, 1897. 518 p.: frontispiece portrait of President William McKinley and 36 full-page photographs (included in pagination), 2 full-page maps; 21 cm. Publisher's red-brown cloth with gilt- and black-stamped spine title and illustration, and gilt- and black-stamped cover title and illustration. Green floral endpapers. Copyright by M.J. Coghlan. First Edition. In 1896, before the presidential election, Edgewood Publishing Company published Life and Distinguished Services of Hon. Wm. McKinley and the Great Issues of 1896 (21 chapters and 501 pages, with a frontispiece and 30 photographs), which is widely available. However, in 1897, following William McKinley's election to the presidency, Edgewood Publishing hurried into print this updated publication, with a new cover and title: The Great Battle for Sound Money Led by Wm. McKinley (23 chapters and 518 pages, with a frontispiece and 36 photographs). The two additional chapters found here are: Chapter 22: McKinley's Inaugural Address: A Lofty Appeal to All Patriotic Americans for the Prompt Solution of the Great and Pressing Problems of the National Government and Chapter 23: McKinley's Cabinet: Wise and Distinguished Men Who will Aid in the Affairs of State. The 6 additional photographs are of members of the new administration: Joseph M'Kenna, Attorney General; Lyman J. Gage, Secretary of the Treasury; Russell A. Alger, Secretary of War; James A. Gary, Postmaster General; John D. Long, Secretary of the Navy; and James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture. Extremely scarce. In Very Good Condition: corners rubbed and bumped; ends of spine frayed; pages and illustrations are clean, bright, and tight. (#002750) $75.00

8. Hoover, Herbert. A Boyhood in Iowa; With a Foreword by Will Irwin and wood engravings by John DePol. Council Bluffs: Yellow Barn Press, 1986. 34, [2] p.: wood engravings; 24 cm. Green cloth spine with green-and-white paper over boards printed from a pattern by John DePol. Printed paper spine label. Green endpapers. With original glassine dust jacket and Errata slip signed by Neil Shaver. This is number 115 of a limited edition of 125 copies hand-printed by Neil Shaver at the Yellow Barn Press. Contents: An Informal Address Before the Iowa Society of Washington -- A Return to Boyhood Scenes. Book is in Fine Condition: a crisp and bright copy. Glassine dust jacket is in Very Good: upper edge, which is slightly taller than the book, is chipped. (#000873) $145.00

9. Impeachment of Richard M. Nixon President of the United States: The Final Report of the Committee on the Judiciary House of Representatives; Peter W. Rodino, Jr., Chairman; With an Introduction by R. W. Apple, Jr., of The New York Times. New York: Bantam Books, 1975. xxvi, [2], 755, [9] p.; 18 cm. Paperback with illustrated cover. Publisher's advertisements on final unpaginated pages. Includes index. Scarce. In Very Good Condition: cover has small scrapes; edges rubbed; pages are slightly browning but clean and tight. (#007054) $18.00

10. Jamieson, Kathleen Hall. Packaging the Presidency: A History and Criticism of Presidential Campaign Advertising. Oxford: Oxford University Press, 1988. ISBN: 0195056566. xxvi, 505 p.: illustrations; 20 cm. Paperback with illustrated cover. Winner of the Speech Communication Association's Golden Anniversary Book Award. Contains an overview of advertising in presidential campaigns in American history and then devotes one chapter to each of the campaigns from 1952 through 1980. In Near Fine- Condition: lower corner of front cover slightly creased; a few page corners creased; clean and tight. (#007226) $8.00

11. Kuklick, Bruce. The Good Ruler: From Herbert Hoover to Richard Nixon [Uncorrected Proof]. New Brunswick, N.J.: Rutgers University Press, 1988. xii, 192 p.; 21 cm. Red paper covers. Includes essay on sources. The illustrations not included, since it is an uncorrected proof. Advance Uncorrected Proof. "Instead of trying to evaluate which presidents set consistent and worthy policies and brought them to fruition, Kuklick asks us to pay more attention to how the American people felt about their presidents. The citizenry and its emotional responses are used as the measure of a successful president, rather than the ostensibly rational appraisals of scholars" [from the back cover]. In Near Fine Condition: spine is lightly sunned; otherwise a solid and clean copy. (#001450) $12.50

12. Linn, William. The Life of Thomas Jefferson, Author of the Declaration of Independence, and Third President of the United States. Ithaca: Andrus, Woodruff, & Gauntlett, 1843. 267, [1] p., frontispiece engraved portrait of Jefferson; 19 cm. Modern dark brown flax paper over boards with gilt-tooled leather spine label. The author, William Linn (1790-1867), was an Ithaca attorney and the son of the Reverend William Linn (1752-1808) of Albany. The latter had expressed his opposition to the election Thomas Jefferson to the presidency in the pamphlet Serious Considerations on the Election of a President (Trenton, 1800). That his fear that Jefferson's election would "destroy religion, introduce immorality, and loosen all the bonds of society" [Sowerby, no. 3226] was unfounded is shown in his son's biography of Jefferson. In Very Good Condition: minor loss at lower corner of frontispiece, with closed 1.5-cm. tear from lower edge; foxing throughout; one marginal note in blue; otherwise, clean and tight. (#007163) $175.00

13. Official Program of the Inaugural Ceremonies Inducting into Office Dwight D. Eisenhower President of the United States [and] Richard M. Nixon Vice President of the United States: January 20, 1953. Washington, D.C.: Inaugural Committee, 1953. 48 p.: illustrations; 28 cm. Silver and gilt illustrations on stapled cover. Cover title: Presidential Inauguration 1953. Designed by Sam Ingram. Photographs and biographical information about Eisenhower and Nixon, the inaugural activities, and Washington, D.C. With the original envelope. Program is in Fine Condition. The envelope is in Good Condition: lightly rubbed and soiled; chipping at edges. (#006333) $15.00

14. Pitman, John. An Oration, Delivered on the Centennial Anniversary of the Birth of Washington: February 22, 1832. Providence, R.I.: Weeden and Knowles, Printers, 1832. 36 p.; 21 cm. Lacking wrappers. Untrimmed. Inscription at head of title: "Professor Goddard with the respect of the Author." Two editorial corrections in the same hand. The author, John Pitman (1785-1864), was a federal judge for Rhode Island from 1825 to his death. The Professor Goddard to whom he gave this publication may have been William G. Goddard, professor of philosophy and belles-lettres at Brown University from 1825 to 1842. In Very Good Condition: title page and last pages slightly soiled; lower margin of pages 18 and 19 slightly soiled; last leaf detached from stitching but held by three 20th-century staples. (#001304) $35.00

15. Polsby, Nelson W.; Wildavsky, Aaron. Presidential Elections: Strategies of American Electoral Politics. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons, 1976. ISBN: 068414459X. Fourth Edition. xvi, [2], 299 p.: tables; 24 cm. Blue cloth with silver spine title. Dust jacket designed by Hal Siegel. Includes index. Book is in Near Fine Condition: edges rubbed; clean and tight. Dust Jacket is in Very Good Condition: lightly soiled; closed 3-cm. tear from upper edge of back section; closed 1-cm. tear from lower edge of back section. (#007006) $12.00
16. Rubel, David, editor. "To the Best of My Ability": The American Presidents; General Editor James M. McPherson, Editor David Rubel. New York: Dorling Kindersley for the Society of American Historians, 2000. ISBN: 0789450739. First American edition. 480 p.: illustrations; 24 cm. Red and blue cover with yellow and white spine and cover title; presidential seal on the front cover. Endpapers are dark blue. Illustrated dust jacket. Contains biographical essays on each president through Bill Clinton, as well as information about each presidential campaign and the text of each inaugural address. A heavy book; for international shipping, it will have to be sent by priority international. Book is in Fine Condition: clean and tight. Dust jacket is in Near Fine Condition: edges rubbed; clean and bright. (#007141) $18.00
17. Selinker, Mike. The Ghastlytrump Tinies by Mike Selinker; Illustrated by Veronica Berns, Joe Cabrera, Shawn Coss, Lar deSouza, David Ellis Dickerson, Jade Gordon, Cara Heacock, Heather Hudson, Kyle Stanley Hunter, John Kovalic, David Malki !, Natalie Metzger, Jesper Myrfors, Chris O'Neill, Aviv Or, Len Peralta, Satine Phoenix, Mackenzie Schubert, Stan Shaw, Stan!, Tony Steele, Kris Straub, Nate Taylor, Elisa Teague, Joel Watson, and Sam Wood. Renton, WA: Renton Printery, 2016. [32] p.: illustrations; 14 x 18 cm. Paperback with illustrated cover by Nate Taylor. This parody of Edward Gorey's The Gashlycrumb Tinies illustrates what could be lost under a Trump presidency. Each letter of the alphabet is illustrated by a different artist. Printed in Gorey font. In Fine Condition. (#005110) $45.00

18. Richards, George. The Memory of Washington: A Sermon Preached in the First Congregational Church, Litchfield, Conn., February 22, 1863. Philadelphia, Pa.: Henry B. Ashmead, 1863. 22, [2] p.; 22 cm. Brown wrapper with wrapper title. Former owner's name in pencil on front wrapper and inside of back wrapper: Irving H. Fellows. The Rev. George Richards' reflections on the life of George Washington, from the perspective of the American Civil War. In Good Condition: wrapper is stained and creased; lacking lower corner of front wrapper; wrapper is separated along spine; back wrapper is detached but present; upper corners creased; light foxing throughout; pages are otherwise clean and tight. (#001305) $27.00

RELATIONS BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS

19. Champagny, Jean-Baptiste Nompère de, duc de Cadore. Letter from M. Champagny, the French Minister for Exterior Relations to General Armstrong, the Minister of the United States, at Paris; Accompanying a message from the President of the United States, received on the 30th March, 1808. Washington, D.C.: A. & G. Way, printers, 1808. 4 p.; 21 cm. Disbound from a larger volume. "April 2, 1808. Printed by order of the house of representatives." "Translation of a letter from M. Champagny to General Armstrong, dated Paris, January 15, 1808."--p. [3]. Early American Imprints, Second series (Shaw & Shoemaker), 16408. John Armstrong (1758-1843) served as U.S. Minister to France from 1804 to 1810. Champagny's letter relates to the ongoing Napoleonic Wars between France and Great Britain, and the difficult position of the United States as Great Britain continued to impress Americans into the British navy and restrict the United States' ability to trade with France. In Good Condition: removed from a larger volume, with the 2 leaves only partially attached to one another; foxed; otherwise clean and intact. Scarce. (#004246) $25.00

20. Erskine, D. M. (David Montagu). Letter from Mr. Erskine, the British Minister, to the Secretary of State, on the Subject of the British Orders in Council of the Eleventh of November, 1807; Accompanying a Message from the president of the United States, received on the 30th March, 1808. Washington, D.C.: A. & G. Way, printers, 1808. 7, [1] p.; 21 cm. Disbound from a larger volume. "April 2, 1808, printed by order of the House of Representatives." Early American Imprints, Second series (Shaw & Shoemaker), 16409. James Madison served as U.S. Secretary of State from 1801 to 1809. The British minister's letter relates to British restrictions on trade between the United States and Europe during the Napoleonic Wars. In Very Good Condition: removed from a larger volume; lacking stitching but otherwise fully intact; minor foxing; clean. (#004245) $18.50

21. Gallatin, Albert. Peace with Mexico. New York: Bartlett & Welford, 1847. [1], 4-34 p.; 22 cm. Lacking wrapper. Disbound from a nonce volume. In an old hand at head of first page: "#11. Peace with Mexico By Hon. Albert Gallatin." Publication information supplied from Worldcat records. Former Congressman and Secretary of the Treasury Gallatin examines the annexation of Texas by the United States and the resulting war with Mexico. In Very Good Condition: lacking wrapper; light foxing in upper margin of last leaf; inscription as noted above; otherwise clean and bright. (#001222) $33.00

23. Madison, James; Monroe, James; Pinkney, William. Letters from the Secretary of State to Messrs. Monroe and Pinkney, on Subjects Committed to Their Joint Negotiation; with their Communications to the Secretary of State. Washington D.C.: A. & G. Way, printers, 1808. 226 p.; 21 cm. Disbound from a larger volume. "Part III. Accompanying the message of the president of the United States, received of the 22d of March, 1808. March 23, 1808. Printed by order of the house of representatives." Early American Imprints, Second series "Shaw & Shoemaker," 16453. Contains communications from 1806 and 1807 between James Madison, U.S. Secretary of State, and Ministers Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the United States in England, James Monroe and William Pinkney, while they negotiated the Monroe-Pinkney Treaty of 1806. President Thomas Jefferson rejected the treaty because of its failure to stop England from impressing Americans onto their ships during the Napoleonic Wars. This was one of the issues leading to the War of 1812. In Good Condition: disbound; first leaf detached, 2nd and 3rd partially detach, all are present; occasional foxing; pages are browning but clean and tight. (#004241) $85.00

24. Monroe, James. Letter from Mr. Monroe to the Secretary of State dated Richmond, February 28, 1808. Washington, D.C.: A. & G. Way, printers, 1808. 47, [1] p.; 21 cm. Printed by order of the house of representatives." Early American Imprints, Second series (Shaw & Shoemaker), 16411. James Monroe served as U.S. Ambassador to England from 1803 to 1808, and James Madison served as U.S. Secretary of State from 1801 to 1809. In this letter, Monroe is responding to Madison's previous communications relative to the impressment of Americans by the British navy in general and the Monroe-Pinkney Treaty in particular. In Good Condition: disbound; first leaf partially detached, and last leaf detached but present; pages are lightly browning but otherwise clean and tight. (#004243) $45.00

25. Root, Elihu. The Obligations of the United States as to Panama Canal Tolls: Speech of Hon. Elihu Root of New York in the Senate of the United States, January 21, 1913. Washington, D.C.: Government Printing Office, 1913. 31, [1] p.; 24 cm. Pamphlet with cover title. Senator Elihu Root argues persuasively against exempting American vessels passing through the Panama Canal from paying the tolls charged on other vessels. After much debate, the canal act was amended and, from the official opening of the Panama Canal in 1914, American vessels using the canal were treated the same as those of other nations. Elihu Root was a leader in the fight to keep the United States from granting itself a special advantage in relation to the canal. In Very Good- Condition: outer leaves slightly soiled and starting to separate along spine; one vertical and horizontal crease throughout; lower corner of first two leaves creased and chipped; otherwise clean and tight. (#001123) $21.00

White wrappers printed in red and blue. Spine and front wrapper titles. Edited by Henry Soulié. Contains speeches and articles about Lafayette and Washington emphasizing the historical bonds that connect France and the United States, in the context of the First World War. "Collection Pour la Patrie sous la direction de M. Henry Soulié" -- on front wrapper. Very scarce. In Good+ Condition: wrapper is lightly soiled; front wrapper partially detached; minor loss at ends of spine; pages are lightly browning but clean and tight. (#004142) $24.50

AMERICAN ELECTIONS

27. Democratic Facts About Republican Figures. New York: Citizens' Committee for the Election of Alfred E. Smith, 1922. 12 p.; 23 cm. Wrapper title. Stamped on wrapper: "N.Y. State Library May 21 1925." Pamphlet published during the 1922 campaign for governor of New York state. Alfred E. Smith (1873-1944) had served as governor in 1919 and 1920, when he was defeated for re-election by Nathan L. Miller. He won re-election in 1922 and served from 1923 to 1928. This pamphlet responds to arguments by Governor Miller's campaign that his administration had saved money. Scarce. In Good Condition: front wrapper lightly soiled; upper corners creased and torn; wrapper separated for 5 cm. from head of spine. (#005867) $35.00

28. Jared Hoch of Oley for County Commissioner: 1884. Oley, Pa.: Jared Hoch, 1884. 1 card (55x 88 mm.) printed on one side with decorative border. In 1870 Jared Hoch (1825-1909) was one of the commissioners of the Friedensburg Turnpike Road Company in Berks County. Here he offers himself as a candidate for county commissioner of Berks County, Pa., at the Democratic Nominating Convention, having been next to highest in the two former conventions. It is unknown whether he was the Democratic candidate, but he was not one of the three men who began serving three-year terms in 1885. Ephemera from 19th-century local political campaigns is scarce. In Near Fine Condition: one corner rubbed; clean and bright. (#006879) $35.00

Issued by the Citizens' Municipal Reform Association prior to the May 1873 election to urge voters to support Reform candidates for Philadelphia city government. Officers listed include Henry C. Lea, president; R. Rundle Smith, vice president; and Charles Wheeler, treasurer. Other members listed include L.P. Ashmead, John J. Ridgway, Jr., Lemuel Coffin, and A.J. Drexel. Includes a list of members to accept new members by ward. In Very Good+ Condition: light soiling; corners lightly creased. (#001211) $25.00

30. Monaghan, R. E. The Vox Populi, or Legislative Telegraph: Invented and Patented by R.E. Monathan, Esq. West Chester, Pa.: J. Hodgson, printer, 1849. 8 p.: tables; 22 cm. Lacking wrapper. Disbound from a volume of unrelated 19th-century pamphlets. "18" in ink at upper right-hand corner of title page. Caption title. Publication information from library records. Robert Emmet Monaghan (1822-1895) was a Pennsylvania lawyer and represented Chester County in the state legislature. His mechanical vote counter was patented on March 14, 1848. This pamphlet reports on the demonstration of the machine given to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in 1849. Ink notations on p. 3 correct the description of the levers indicating Yea and Nay votes. In Very Good- Condition: first leaf and last leaf are detached but present; light foxing on p. 8; otherwise, clean. (#005100) $125.00
